Description of district's efforts to screen and identify dyslexia

All students are screened three times per year. If there is a student that falls below the meeting grade level standards category, the teacher and interventionist work together to determine the best way to meet the needs of student. All students falling below will receive interventions and additional testing to determine the needs and further screen for dyslexia. All necessary interventions and adaptations are made within the classroom and school. Data is collected frequently to monitor growth.

Description of district's efforts to screen and identify convergence insufficiency disorder

All students are visually screened before starting school. IN addition, students are re-screened in first and third grades. Anytime a teacher think there are vision difficulties, the student can be screened by our school nurse. Student STAR assessment data is also used to determine students struggling, and necessary interventions and adaptations are made within the classroom and school.
